PRICE THREE CENTS

COMMISSIONERS DENY THEY HAVE BEEN "PERSUADED" TO LIKE AD SIGNS

Resent County's Signing 10-Year Contract for Traffic Boards.

IS BUT ONE COMPLAINT

Reports emanating from Norris-town this week to the effect that Lower Merion commissioners who protested recently against the erection along county roads in the township of traffic signals bearing advertising, had been placated by the county commissioners on a visit here were denied this week by Dr. Seidel, chairman of the Township Highway Committee and other members of the board.

The Lower Merion commissioners do not want the signs. They deem them ugly and undesirable and resent the action of the county commissioners in unloading them here when Lower Merion had previously refused to allow such advertising signs placed in the township. They are merely awaiting a formal reply from the county commissioners to the request that the signs be abolished before taking further action which may land the matter in the courts.

The Lower Merion board at a meeting on August 4 received protests from residents against three of the traffic ad signs which had been placed on Montgomery pike, a county road, near the old Friends' Meeting House opposite Narberth. It condemned the signs and asked their removal.

According to stories from Norris-town, the county commissioners arrived here, inspected the signs, declared they found nothing wrong with them and then proceeded to wean Lower Merion officials over to their point of view by promises of aid to the 1927 road program.

"The 'battle' became a love feast," wrote the Hasanna specialists at the county seat. "The objections melted away, to be replaced by pledges of co-operation and expressions of appreciation for the commissioners' solicitude. The 'jolt' which was to have been handed to the county heads was a boomerang. Stout and Crawford returned with colors flying and with prestige increased. They had strengthened, rather than weakened, their fences for 1927."

All of which should have made romantic reading for the county triumvirate. The picture had several flaws, however, and the largest was that it lacked truth.

Made No Promises.

What happened was that the county commissioners had slated a trip to Lower Merion to confer with the Township Highway Committee as to plans for the 1927 road program here. One of the chief things to be discussed was the fixing up on Montgomery pike with concrete "shoulders" or stripping along the gutters which would make that thoroughfare wider and faster for motor traffic. And when the county solons heard of the sign protest, they

WINS RIDING AWARD

Miss Anna F. Donnelly, of Narberth, Is Honored at Teela Wooket Camp, Vermont.

Miss Anna F. Donnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Donnelly, of Mill road, was awarded her second-class riding insignia last week at the Teela Wooket Camp, Roxbury, Vt., where she is spending the summer. The award was made by the camp directors at the weekly camp gathering in the big lodge.

The award, just received by Miss Donnelly, is one highly cherished by the campers. Only those girls who show ability in riding, with and without stirrups, who are able to mount and dismount, and who exhibit general skill in horsemanship, are eligible for this award.

Possessing a fine stable of 40 riding horses and having a staff of six well-trained instructors, Teela Wooket has come to be known as "The Riding Camp." Miss Donnelly, therefore, in being awarded her insignia at this camp, has won for herself a mark of unique distinction.

A COSTLY HAIRCUT

Last week Daniel P. Lees, of Ardmore, found it necessary to go to New York on business. Wanting to look his best he stopped in a barber shop in Philadelphia on Market street to get a haircut.

A haircut seemed like a simple thing to get, but he got the surprise of his life when the barber presented him with a check for $3.50. It was near train time and there wasn't sufficient time to argue out the fine points of whether or not payment could justly be demanded for "unauthorized" lilies, salves, massages, tonics, stamocin, and all other little attentions, the average barber is prone to press upon his victims. Lees paid his bill under protest and said he would settle the matter when he returned.

When he got back from New York he had the barber hailed into a magistrate's court. The barber was told that unless a satisfactory settlement could be made out of court a fine would be imposed.

"Y" EFFICIENT, BUT HOME INADEQUATE

George A. Mahl, new Secretary, Makes Inspection and Reports.

SWIMMING IS POPULAR

The Ardmore Y. M. C. A., which serves the Main Line district, is well organized and is conducted in a businesslike manner, but the building and its accommodations have been found wholly inadequate to serve its 800 members, says a report made by George A. Mahl, of Narberth, field executive in charge of the Y. Mr. Mahl has completed his first month in his new position and this week gave the results of an inspection which he has made of the Main Line organization.

"I found the main building at 116 West Lancaster avenue, Ardmore, well organized and running in a businesslike manner," he reports. "But the building itself is wholly inadequate to handle the activities that comprise the program of a well-directed Y. M. C. A."

Crowded for Room.

"There are about 800 members enrolled and this is a fairly accurate list of those using the building frequently. We are very much crowded for room, but through the systematic order of things everyone seems to be well taken care of. Of course, this has reference to the summer season only; I can readily see when the regular program for the fall season and winter starts, we will simply be swamped."

"The swimming pool was probably the greatest attraction during

TAXIMAN ELOPES WITH PARTNER'S DAUGHTER

Father Swears Out Warrant, Charging Abduction.

A warrant was issued this week by Magistrate Fred Walzer for the arrest of Russell Rittenhouse, aged 31, charged with abducting Elizabeth Roser, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roser.

Rittenhouse is the business partner of Roser, who has conducted the Narberth Taxicab Company for a number of years. He made his home with the Rosers.

Last Saturday, the father states, his daughter, who is employed by the Hartford Insurance Company, left early, declaring that she was wanted at home. Rittenhouse had stated that he was leaving to attend a family reunion.

When the daughter did not return Saturday, the parents became worried, and the next day received a letter mailed from Philadelphia, declaring that she had married Rittenhouse and would never return home.

A search of the newspapers revealed the fact that the couple had been married at Elkton, and that the girl's age had been given as 19. Mrs. Roser, who has been ill in the hospital, was prostrated by the tidings.

Philadelphia detectives have been set on the trail of the couple.

COAL RIOT VETERAN IS MADE NEW POLICE HEAD

Captain Charles P. Smith, of McKees Rocks, Pa., former captain of the State Police, coal riot veteran, and present head of a Pittsburgh private police force, was unanimously elected to the newly created post of superintendent of police at a meeting of the Lower Merion Commissioners in Ardmore Wednesday evening. James I. Donaghy, who has been chief of police for many years and who has been seriously ill for the past year, was retained in an advisory capacity with his present rank of captain. No other changes were made.

Captain Smith, it is understood, was under consideration in July when the ordinance creating the office of superintendent came up before the commission for first reading. His actual selection took place last week at a meeting of the police committee but his name did not become known until Wednesday.

His election at this week's meeting of the board was a routine matter and took place on a resolution offered out by Chairman William H. Sherwood of the Police Committee. He will assume charge of the Lower Merion police on September 1 and his term will run until February 1, 1927.

Following the election of the new superintendent, the resignation of James I. Donaghy as chief of police

NARBERTH GOES WITHOUT LIGHTS

As Result of Storms of Past Week, Which Have Caused Considerable Damage Elsewhere.

Many parts of Narberth were darkened during the past week as the result of the Main Line's share of the electrical and rain and wind storms that have caused damage elsewhere throughout this part of the United States.

Friday the thirteenth—hapless day—lights went off at Hampton and Haverford avenues' intersection and also on Elmwood avenue.

Saturday all the lights went off, as a result of the terrific storm raging. The Wayne ball game was called off in the afternoon, and many merchants and their patrons were inconvenienced by the darkness.

Sunday all Southside lights except part of Narberth and Essex avenues went out.

Wednesday the eighteenth, the elements continued to conspire against the borough. Lights went out in spots—on Iona avenue and Meeting House lane, Forrest and Windsor avenues, Dudley and Windsor avenues, Maple avenue and Chestnut avenue. The south side of the bridge at Narberth avenue, and even the fire house on Forrest avenue, were plunged in darkness.

BURRELL-ROSS

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Darlington Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Bunn Ross, of Cynwyd, and Mr. Edward Sidney Burrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Burrell, of Gowen avenue, Mt. Airy, was quietly solemnized in All Saints' P. E. Church, Wynnewood, last Saturday morning.

Rev. Gibson Bell, rector of the church, was the officiating clergyman. Only the immediate families of the couple were present.

The family of the bride were residents of Narberth until a few months ago. Mrs. Ross is a past president of the Women's Community Club and was active in local affairs. Mrs. Burrell graduated in 1920 from the Narberth High School and took the degree of A. B. from Mount Holyoke. She is an accomplished musician and the author of a number of songs.

After an extended honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Burrell will be at home to their friends after October 15 at Anderson avenue, Germantown.

Since the last meeting of Council, the Ramsdell Construction Company, subcontractors for the Good Roads Company, have completed the grading and paving of Meeting House lane and Williams avenue. We submit below an analysis of this work which has been provided by the borough engineers as follows:

Item No. 1, grading, 1435 cu. yds. @ $.96	$1,377.60
Item No. 2, a macadam base, 5169 sq. yds. @ $1.08	4,502.52
Item No. 5, penetration macadam, 4169 sq. yds. @ $.95	3,960.55

Total of work completed $9,840.67

Less previous payment 4,155.84

Amount due contractor $5,684.83

There are several depressions in the new pavement on Meeting House lane, notably over the sewer trench, and Mr. Ramsdell has been instructed by the borough engineers to bring these up to grade. Up to date, Mr. Ramsdell has done nothing in this matter and the borough engineers have suggested, which your committee in turn recommends, that the final payment for this work be delayed until those depressions have been filled in. In this connection, it is also due Mr. Ramsdell to point out that his original estimate for the work on Meeting House lane was $8500, and for that on Williams avenue, $2500, making a total of $11,000. This work has been completed with the exception noted above, for $1160 less than the original estimates, due, of course, to the fact that the contract was let on the basis of definite prices for definite volume of work.

In order to avoid a 19-inch step down where the sidewalk on Meeting House lane joined the sidewalk on

LONG-MULLIGAN

The marriage of Clarence Long to Miss Mary Agnes Mulligan took place Wednesday afternoon at St. Margaret's Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mulligan, of No. 245 Iona avenue, and has been in the employ of the Almar Stores for several years. Mr. Long, a life-long resident of Narberth, is the son of Mrs. Margaret Long, of Philadelphia, who was keeper of the toll gate, formerly located on Montgomery avenue, near the General Wayne Inn. He is employed as a clerk in the Narberth Post Office, and was formerly Southside carrier.

After the ceremony the couple left for a honeymoon at Ocean City. Upon their return they will make their home at No. 111 Forrest avenue.

BUILDING PERMITS $15,925

Eleven building permits were issued during the month of July by Building Inspector George B. Supplee. They totaled $15,925.

Here's a Narberth Cigar Story That Rivals Any Fish Story—And It's True

The average man is rather annoyed if he chances to lose a cigar from his pocket. If he happens to lose, by breakage or carelessness, a whole pocketful, it would be putting it mildly to say that he becomes rather peeved. But how would you like to lose 750 cigars?

Gene Davis, ball-playing dealer in cigars and sporting goods, etc., but especially in cigars, went in town last Friday to pick up a fresh stock of Eisenlohrs. With 15 boxes of fragrant wrapped tobacco leaf for Narberth smokers aboard, Gene dropped in at A. Foster's shop on Fifth street to look over some toys for next Christmas. After all, Christmas is only four months and four days off. Gene can't be blamed for being foresighted.

And then the calamity occurred. You know what a tough place Philadelphia is in the section between Race and Arch streets on Fifth street—Gene was in the toy store for only three and a half minutes, and it took the thief just one-half a minute of that time to unload 15 boxes of cigars.

When Gene came out of the store

MAKE RADICAL CHANGES IN HAV-ERFORD AND NARBERTH AVENUE PARKING RULES

New Regulations Decided on By Police Committee of Borough Council Will Abolish Angle Parking in Congested Business District of Narberth.

ONE HOUR PARKING—STINGENT RULES

ASH COLLECTION

Residents of Narberth should remember to put out their cans of ashes and rubbish next week in time for the monthly collection by the borough trucks. The trucks will run on their regular routes each day next week. There will not be another collection until the week beginning Monday, September 20.

An entirely new set of parking regulations for Narberth will soon be enforced by the Lower Merion police on duty here, as a result of the August 10th meeting of the police committee of the Borough Council. Radical changes have been made to facilitate and expedite traffic through the crowded business section of Narberth, along Haverford avenue.

The changes are a result of a conference attended by Lieutenant Miller, representing the Lower Merion police; E. C. Griswold, president of Council; Daniel Leitch, chairman of the committee on police; Clarence Kaerber and John R. Hall, members of the police committee; George B. Supplee, Street Commissioner; Charles V. Noel, Chief of the Fire Department, and Burgess Henry A. Frye.

Definite regulations for governing of parking were drawn up and submitted to the Lower Merion Police Department, of which Charles P. Smith is the newly-appointed Superintendent.

White lines and signs on pedestals along the sidewalks will be used, and placed as soon as obtainable, to indicate the following parking regulations:

Haverford avenue—south side. From Essex to Forrest—no parking.

From Forrest to Narberth avenue—loading and unloading only, parallel with curb.

Haverford avenue—north side. From Essex to Narberth avenues—one hour parking limit, parallel with curb.

From Narberth avenue to 100 feet eastward—no parking.

North Narberth avenue—no parking on either side for 100 feet north of Haverford avenue.

South Narberth avenue, west side—no parking for 100 feet south of Haverford avenue; from that point to railroad, loading and unloading only, parallel with curb.

South Narberth avenue, east side—one hour parking limit, parallel with curb.

Forrest avenue—no parking in front of fire house, as at present.

Essex avenue—no parking on either side, for 100 feet north of Haverford avenue.

Not more than one bus may stop on Haverford between Essex and Narberth avenues at one time. East-bound busses may load and unload only at eastern side of entrance to P. R. R. Station, and in front of Koch's drug store. West-bound busses may stop only on Narberth avenue just north of Haverford avenue, and on Essex avenue just north of Haverford avenue.

No dragging and waiting for trains on Haverford avenue is to be permitted.

The Philadelphia Suburban Transit Company may place "Bus Stop" signs at places indicated above, if

NO BASEBALL, PLENTY RAIN

The twilight game on Tuesday was postponed on account of the weather. Narberth was to have played Dunkirk.

The Wayne game last Saturday also received a wet blanket of rain. And, finally, the much-anticipated final game between the Firemen-Legion was called off Wednesday night, because the Community Grounds resembled the ocean more than dry ground.

ATTENTION OF VOTERS

The Registry Assessors will sit at the polling places August 31 and September 1, 11 A. M. to 4 P. M., and 7 P. M. to 10 P. M., Daylight Saving Time. This is the last opportunity to correct your name, address and party on the registration books for the fall election.

ED. PETERS WINS ANNUAL DECATHLON

Takes Community Playground Meet, With Purring Second, Pugh 3d. JR. H. S. TRACK STAR

Ed Petus, by scoring 23 points, won the second annual playground decathlon held last Friday at the Community Playground. Purring, of Lower Merion Junior High School, took second place with 29 points.

The others who finished were: Francis Pugh, 33; Robert Sigel, 37; Stanley Thomas, 44.

The scoring in the decathlon is done by adding up the total number of places an entrant makes. A perfect score is 10.

Only five contestants faced the officials in the shot-put, the opening event of the long grind which finished with the mile run. The ground was in poor condition, due to the heavy rain and the athletes were handicapped considerably. The individual performers were below average, although the contest proved close throughout, and not until the final event, the mile run, was the winner decided.

Purring Made Good Record.

Purring, who last season was a member of Lower Merion Junior High School track team, was especially strong in the running events, taking all three. He fell back considerably in the field events. Although Peters won but two first places, his all-around performance kept him well up in the running. He took the pole vault and high jump.

Sigel won the shot-put and discus, as was expected. He heaved the eight-pounder 38 feet 3 inches, which was good considering the condition of the ground.

The meet was held under the supervision of Mr. Oberlein, director of the playground. James Mackey, last year's manager of the local Junior High School, directed the contest.

The summary:

Shot-put—Won by Sigel, distance, 38.3 feet; second, Peters; third, Pugh; fourth, Purring, and fifth, Thomas.

100-yard Dash—Won by Purring; second, Pugh; third, Peters; fourth, Sigel; fifth, Thomas. Time—11-5 seconds.

High Jump—Won by Peters. Height, 4 feet 9 inches; second, Sigel; third, Thomas; fourth, Purring, and fifth, Pugh.

State Election Bureau Tackles
May Primary Puzzles in Check Up

Just how many of the men and women figuring in the lists of nominees for legislative seats on behalf of the minor parties know they are candidates is a question officials of the State Bureau of Elections will try to have solved before September 13, the last day upon which candidates nominated at the May primary can withdraw from tickets.

It is very apparent from the lists at the bureau a number of men who ran on a couple of tickets at the primary and lost out on a candidacy of a major party won honors of a minor party mainly by default or by scattering votes.

In several instances coming to light men have been surprised to learn they are candidates and wanted to know how it happened. Most of them will not want to stand in the belief of the officials familiar with such situations. But the law does not provide for any inquiry of that kind and unless there are withdrawals by these so-called "unknowns" their names will show up on the ballots in their home districts and they will have to stay there.

Now that the forms for candidates desiring to run on their own hook or on personally conducted parties have reached the Capitol it is expected it will soon develop how many independent nominations are going to be filed by means of what are known as nomination papers. The first preliminary is mathematical as it deals with the number of signatures required to make a party in the State or a district. Such papers must be filed by September 3.

One of the most frequent inquiries heard here is whether the Labor party is going to have a full ticket at the November election. Governor Pinchot is expected to withdraw shortly. The Progressive and other parties blooming again this year have not yet shown signs of wanting blanks.

From this district two Republicans, Benjamin H. Ludlow, of Ardmore, and Burd P. Evans, of Trappe, both candidates in May for the State Senator nomination, won places on other tickets. Mr. Ludlow long ago withdrew from his Prohibition party nomination, but Mr. Evans has not as yet filed a withdrawal on his Labor party nomination.

GATES CLOSED TO MAINTAIN PRIVACY

Haverford College Bows to Old Law Regulating Rights of Way.

LAST TIME WAS IN 1907

Many residents of the Main Line will, no doubt, wonder as they motor to town tomorrow morning why the gates of Haverford College are closed, and unless they have been residents of this section for a matter of two decades they will probably have no sufficient explanation of the unusual sight.

The roads through the college grounds, of course, are not public thoroughfares, though a great many people use them as such through the courtesy of the college authorities. To comply with a State law and preserve the rights of privacy all entrances to Haverford College except one will be closed for 24 hours beginning at 8 P. M. this evening.

The law provides that if a property owner fails to make his property private by closing the driveways at least once in 20 years, the rights of way on the property become public thoroughfares.

For 24 hours, therefore, until 8 P. M. tomorrow night, only the main entrance to College lane on Lancaster avenue will remain open.

The last previous observance of the law by Haverford College was in 1907.

WEDS THIRD TIME

Mary Garfield, 53, of Narberth and William G. Heany, 77, a real estate man of Haddon Heights, N. J., were married by the City Clerk in the Municipal Building, New York city.

This is the third marriage for the bride. Her first husband died in 1906 and her second husband died in 1920. Mr. Heany has also been previously married, his former wife having died in 1920.

WAR ON CONTRACTORS WHO NEGLECT LIGHTS

War has been declared by the Lower Merion police on contractors and others who deposit materials on township highways and fail to mark these properly with signal lights. Several arrests have already been made.

Lukens Brothers, of Cynwyd, were given a hearing before Magistrate Arthur on Monday for failing to meet these requirements on a job on Llanfair Road. They were assessed costs and warned of future violations.

SCALE UNCLIMBED
CANADIAN PEAKS

John Hoag, of Haverford, in Party Which Ascended Bennington.

DID IT WITHOUT GUIDE

American delegates to the annual meeting of the Alpine Club of Canada, in the Tonquin Valley of Jasper National Park, were particularly prominent during the closing days of the outing, no less than three unclimbed peaks being conquered by two parties from the Eastern States.

To John H. Hoag, of Haverford, and a graduate of Haverford College; N. W. Spadavecchia, of Jamaica, N. Y., and Rupert B. H. Bibby, of London, England, goes the credit for the first ascent of Bennington Peak, 10,276 feet high, one of the highest points in the Bennington-Fraser group and probably one of the hardest.

Also to the same party is credited the ascent of an unnamed peak in the same vicinity. On this climb they were accompanied by Miss Polly Prescott, of Cleveland, O., and Miss A. McLaren, of Buckingham, Quebec. Additional lustre is added to the performance by the fact that both climbs were accomplished without the assistance of a guide.

They attacked the height of Bennington Peak from the west side and in order to do so it was necessary for them to cross several miles of glacier seared by crevices, many of which were hundreds of feet deep and along which they often had to walk a quarter of a mile before they could discover a place where crossing could be made with safety.

Toward the top of the peak they were faced by a precipitous climb of several hundred feet, where the strata lay in the wrong direction, making footholds difficult and precarious.

On the unnamed peak, for which they will suggest the name "Bencher," to the National Geographical Board of Canada, they had less trouble, though several snow and ice fields and loose rock presented problems that had to be overcome.

Evening worship on Methodist Church lawn—7 o'clock.

During the next 10 days prior to the completing of the summer work among the people of Holy Trinity, the acting pastor and his wife expect to make a short call to every home of the congregation to bid each a personal farewell. We feel that we can welcome back Dr. McLinn and turn over the work to him with the feeling that we have done in our little way what he would have had us to do. To those that we will not be able to meet in their homes, farewell! To our friends not in the church here in Narberth, farewell!

COAL RIOT VETERAN IS MADE NEW POLICE HEAD

with supreme authority was accepted and a resolution adopted making him captain and second ranking officer of the force. His term was also made from September 1 to February 1, 1927.

President Frank H. Sykes of the commission in discussing the selection of Captain Smith as superintendent after the meeting admitted that there had been some criticism of the board for its selection of an outsider for the position, but replied to it by declaring that the very reason that Captain Smith was an "outsider" made his selection an ideal one. He would not be affected by township or local politics, it was pointed out, and this would tend to put to the police department on a strictly meritorious basis.

When asked if there was no one now on the roll on the department able to fill the office of superintendent, Mr. Sykes declared: "The action of the board seems to answer that question."

Mr. Sykes served with Captain Smith in the Spanish-American war and as a sergeant under him in the National Guard in the coal riots of 1902. He was high in his praise of the new superintendent as an executive with a keen mind and an excellent military and police record. Captain Smith is 52 years of age, a powerful man physically and has had wide experience in military and police work.

Had Much Experience.

He served through the Spanish-American War as a captain in the First Pennsylvania Volunteers. He was the youngest captain in the regiment. After the war he was an officer in the National Guard of Pennsylvania, serving with his regiment in the coal riots of 1902. Soon after that when the Pennsylvania State Police was formed, Captain Smith was one of the first men selected by Colonel John C. Groome, the superintendent of the State Police, to help him organize that body. Smith was made a captain of one of the troops. He served in that capacity for five years, and during the period that the State Police had to deal with some of its most difficult problems, acquitting itself in such a way that its fame spread all over the United States.

While on strike duty in western Pennsylvania Captain Smith attracted the attention of the officials of the Pressed Steel Car Company. They induced him to accept the post of superintendent of police for that corporation. He organized a private police force for the Pressed Steel Car Company to look after their property and interests scattered in towns and villages from Pittsburgh to Chicago and has continued in that work for the past they so desire.

When the lines and signs have been completed and installed an officer is to be stationed in the restricted area for one week to inform motorists of the new regulations. Following that notice, warning tags are to be used for first offenders, and then penalties of the ordinance imposed for all others.

Call Box on Haverford Avenue.

The question of installing a new call box on Haverford avenue, so that the officer on duty during the day might remain on his beat to make regular calls to headquarters in Ardmore, is to be taken up by Council for its approval at its regular meeting early next month. It is expected that this necessary installation will be approved of by Council and made next month without delay. It has been pending for some time.

The above provisions were embodied in a letter addressed by Chief Burgess Henry A. Frye to Captain James Donaghy, previous to the appointment of Superintendent Charles P. Smith to act as Captain Donaghy's head of the Department of Police for Lower Merion and Narberth.

The new parking regulations will be enforced as soon as practicable, unless amendments are made by the borough authorities. Authority to enforce the rules in the borough has been given to the police officials.

The improved system is the outcome of a long period of deliberation by Narberth authorities, culminating in a front-page editorial in the July tenth issue of "Our Town." Certain of the changes suggested at that time are embodied in the new ruling; certain additional changes are also contained in the new set of regulations, following a careful and comprehensive study of the situation by the vigilant local authorities.

of the size of the pool. If the pool were three times as large as it is, I have no doubt but what it would be constantly filled with enthusiastic swimmers.

"A swimming instructor is always on hand; one who has passed the lifesaving tests and is an expert in first aid, diving and all forms of swimming. The pool is completely emptied each week, thoroughly scrubbed and then filled. In addition to this there is a filtration plant which is in constant operation, thus insuring a plentiful supply of filtered water.

"The association put on a swimming campaign during the month of July. This met with such a popular demand that the campaign has been extended twice in order to take care of all who desire to take advantage of this special opportunity to learn how to swim. The present plans are to continue this free instruction throughout the entire month of September.

LIBRARY ECHOES

Walls Repeat Conversations.

It is an architectural triumph to design and construct a building whose acoustic properties are perfect, whose walls receive and return the voice of speaker or singer with absolute accuracy. Every one recalls the freaks of acoustics by which a person sitting at one end of a curving bench may hear distinctly the voice of another some distance away. History has a number of instances where this unknown quality in a room has revealed many a secret. "Whispering Galleries" and "Halls of Echoes" were fairly common before the law of acoustics was understood.

All this is to lead up to the subject that the library, now before the walls are completely furnished, has an echoing quality, and even voices which are low and quiet sometimes are repeated in the far corners of the room. While this may have some disadvantages it is frequently in this way that pleasant compliments on the building, on the collection of books, on the service maintained by the staff of volunteer workers, has been brought to the attention of those interested in the work, and constructive criticisms as well.

A prominent resident of the borough whose business had kept him away from town since the opening of the building, on his first visit stood just inside the door, held there by his amazement at the charm and efficient appearance of the room, and expressed himself in no uncertain tones as proud, indeed, of such an institution, and the echo carried his words to all corners of the room.

A frequent reader returning from a vacation voiced her wonder that the library had been able to buy all new books, in addition to the equipment and could hardly believe it, when told that the books were the same except for a few additions, but that they had taken on a new glow with the new furniture. Her exclamations were repeated for the gratification of all.

And it was with great glee that echo tossed to the four corners that question asked so frequently last week, "Who wrote the article on the cool breezes at the library?"

SECOND STUDY CLASS

Of League of Women Voters on Direct Primary Held Monday.

The second Study Class on "The Direct Primary," by Dr. Clyde L. King, was held at the home of Miss Martha G. Thomas, at Whitford, on Monday afternoon, August 16. It is an intercounty affair and the 60 persons present represented Philadelphia, Montgomery, Delaware, Bucks and Chester counties. Dr. King reviewed briefly his former talk on the caucus system of nominating public officials and then launched into a vivid and interesting description of the convention system leading up to the period when the direct primary was adopted.

Upon request of Miss Thomas, Mrs. Edward Lafitte explained, briefly, some of the proceedings at a National Convention, referring particularly to the Democratic Convention held in San Francisco, in 1920.

The next class will be held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Taylor, of Elkins Park, at 3 P. M. on Tuesday, August 24.

Penn State's Nature Study Camp.

Immediately following the close of the seventeenth annual summer session last Saturday at the Pennsylvania State College, a group of 75 men and women nature study students started on a two weeks' camping trip in the heart of the Seven Mountains near the college. It is a special nature study camp started by the nature study department of the college for the first time this summer.

Some of the leading naturalists of the country are to attend the camp as lecturers. The camp is in charge of Professor George R. Green, head of the college nature study department, and Mrs. Green. Daily schedules have been mapped out including field trips to study all forms of plant and wild life that abound in that section.

Garden walks and driveways of gravel are very unsightly when covered with weeds and grass. A strong solution of salt water or gasoline will kill the vegetation.

COMMISSIONERS DENY THEY LIKE AD SIGNS

decided to make an investigation while here on their other mission... Arriving last Tuesday, they conferred with the Highway Committee heard its request for county road aid—but made no promises. They then viewed the vividly colored traffic sign boards and declared that they found nothing wrong with these defacing atrocities. They concluded their investigation by informing township officials that they had signed a 10-year contract with an advertising firm permitting the erection of these signs at "prominent points" along county roads.

At the meeting of the Lower Merion commission Wednesday, a letter was read from the county commissioners which was written before the visit last week. It acknowledged receipt of protest against the signs and informed the board of the investigation to be made. Promise was made that a further communication would be forthcoming as to the official decision which would be made following this inspection.

No such communication had been received by the commissioners at their Wednesday meeting, a week and a half later. In its absence Chairman Seidel, of the Highway Committee, who accompanied the county representatives on their inspection trip enlightened the board on their attitude.

"There are a number of things that I might say about the situation," said President Frank H. Sykes, "but I think I have said all that I can with propriety. We will await the advice of the county commissioners before taking the matter further." At the previous meeting of the board Mr. Sykes scathingly condemned the signs as "sore thumbs" and as "spoiling an otherwise pleasing picture."

The traffic ad sign matter is but one of several grievances which Merion has against the county officials at Norristown. It is the wealthiest district in the county and as such contributes the largest share of taxes to the county's treasury. In spite of this its request for proper consideration in road improvements have always fallen upon deaf ears at the county seat. What it has received, it has always had to make strenuous efforts to get.

Also in population Lower Merion is one of the big districts of the county and in the last primary it turned in a bigger vote for the county organization ticket than did Norristown, which is well represented in county patronage. Yet at the present time the township has not one representative in a county office of importance.

All of this may result in interesting developments next year when county commissioners, county controller and a number of other important officials come up for election.

the thief was gone, and so were the cigars. And now comes the unusual part of the tale, a feature which makes this cigar story rival many a fish story.

Gene notified the police headquarters of the district—and at 9 o'clock that night he was informed over the phone that the thief had been apprehended—with the cigars.

Saturday morning, Gene appeared in Philadelphia, and was given his cigars intact. The culprit was a lad of 18, whose ambitions were greater than his appetite. After all, 1500 cigars are too much for even an inveterate middle-aged smoker to consume in any reasonable time, before they become stale—So he sold them to someone else, and the someone else was arrested, also.

And now there are many more cigars smoking around Narberth than there might have been, had it not been for the city detective who retrieved them. Incidentally, the detective's friends and relatives are doing a lot of free smoking nowadays, with Gene Davis' entire approbation.

LIKES NARBERTH

Hartley Walker, president of the Pittsburgh Automatic Gas Water Heater Company, was a recent visitor in Narberth, as a guest of Cook Brothers. He expressed himself as pleased with the orderly, well-stocked show rooms and warehouses of Cook Brothers, on Essex avenue, and he paid tribute to the street system of Narberth and the local zoning system.

This is your paper and your advice is appreciated.

HIGHWAY COMMITTEE

Highway Report.

Montgomery avenue at the southwestern corner of those two streets, it was necessary to go back on the north side of Meeting House lane for several feet and alter the grade of the sidewalk, curb and pavement. This was done by your committee in order principally to meet the objections to the high step that had been advanced by property owners in that vicinity. Since the work was completed, water has been oozing up through the new pavement at that point. This water has appeared to be discolored and residents in that vicinity were positive that it was sewage.

Investigation of the sewer through the manholes convinced the Street Commissioner and the chairman of this committee that the water complained of did not come from any sewer, and we, therefore, decided not to dig up the new pavement in order to make further investigations, but in the fact of a threat by one property owner to appeal to the State Board of Health at Harrisburg, you chairman summoned Messrs. Arison and Green, of the Borough Engineers' office, Mr. Ramsdell and the complaining property owners to meet the Street Commissioner and himself at that point.

A careful examination was made of the sewers and of the water and it was agreed that there was no break in the sewer and that the condition was due to surface water and probably would correct itself. This incident is made a part of this report because there is a possibility that dissatisfied property owners may take the matter to the State Board of Health.

During the past month we have completed the resurfacing of Narberth avenue. This work was handled in three sections, and the costs were as follows:

From Haverford avenue to
Windsor avenue	$1,616.65
From Woodbine avenue to
Price avenue	2,138.64
From Price avenue to Montgomery avenue	2,131.49

Total

In the April report of this committee, it was recommended that this work should be done by borough labor under the direction of the Street Commissioner because the lowest estimate that we had received from a contractor was $6800, whereas only $5000 had been included in the budget for that work and it was our belief that we could do it for $5000. We regret that we exceeded the estimate, but the saving of $1000 under the contractor's estimate indicates the wisdom of doing this work ourselves. We assume that with more experience in handling these larger operations, we shall be able to make closer estimates in the future.

In connection with the resurfacing of Narberth avenue, we saw the opportunity, after the original estimate had been made, to round off the southeast corner of Narberth and Montgomery avenues and thereby eliminate an unsightly condition which was a source of constant inconvenience and some danger to all vehicles rounding that point. Mr. Powers, of Berwyn, the owner of this property at the corner responded to our negotiations in a fair and reasonable manner with the result that this permanent improvement has been accomplished at a cost of about $300, all of which, of course, could not have been included in our original estimate.

The petition for paving Wynnedale avenue, accompanied by a deed of dedication of that street from A. C. Shand, Jr., to the borough of Narberth, was referred to this committee at the July meeting of Council and is made the subject of a separately written report herewith.

Communications have been received from citizens during the past month with reference to the need for street signs and traffic signs in newly-developed sections in the borough. Your committee asks for authority to investigate this subject and report at your September meeting.

The borough steam roller, which has been in use many years, is in need of a thorough overhauling and the installation of new tubes. Your committee asks for authority to proceed with this work immediately at a probable cost of $400.

During the past month, we have raked and leveled off the ditch as left by the Ramsdell Construction Company on the Tennis Club property and we have also assisted the Tennis Club in obtaining from the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company relief from a condition at the north entrance to their property. In addition, we have cleaned the gutter along the south side of Montgomery avenue in response to complaints from property owners that these gutters had never been restored to their former state of usefulness after the sewer was laid. This gutter lies outside the boundaries of the borough, but we did this work at a cost of about $100 in order to discharge a moral obligation to our own tax payers in that vicinity. These people had been notified that the borough will not assume any further responsibility for the condition of that gutter and that they must look to the county authorities for future relief.

During the month of July, 286 cubic yards of ashes were collected. Money expended by the highway department for materials totalled $2,424.26. Other items of expenditure for labor were as follows:

Street maintenance, Narberth avenue	$600.58
Street maintenance	231.60
Ash collection	154.52
Street cleaning	203.66
Community building	114.80

Total

$1,305.16
In addition, $6.84 was spent for hire of roller.
